Jaxon Garrison
Student Executive Officer
Student Investment Fund Graduate

Dear Jaxon:

This letter commends you for the work you performed with the University of Tulsa's Student Investment fund. Please consider it a recommendation for whatever endeavor you pursue. You, along with the other students, developed your equity analysis skills by applying standard financial theory and fundamental analysis to several publicly traded companies. You prepared graduate quality analyst reports, led the demanding committee work, and you made persuasive, quality presentations. Further, you took a leadership role in the class and helped improve the course for your fellow students this semester and for semesters to come.

You made a pronounced difference for the fund --- not just this semester, but for many semesters to follow. As an example, you: (i) presided over multiple record highs; (ii) instituted an intent communication process for next semester candidates; (iii) set the standard for helping high school clubs prepare for the Smackdown, and (iv) facilitated one of the most efficient and effective rapid review processes I have seen. Your mastery of the underlying material remains exceptional. By freely sharing your expertise, the class learned than they would have with just me guiding the knowledge transfer. Few SEOs have made the impact you did. This semester class was fortunate.

Your combination of leadership, competence and enthusiasm will be a valuable combination for the company that hires you, and I very much hope that is in the private equity track. Indeed, I expect the practical and academic skills you learned during this class will serve you well as you go forward in your career, just as your contribution this semester served me and the rest of the class.

Thank you for your contribution and I very much look forward to tracking your career development.
